

THE IONA SCHOOL

Exclusion and Suspension Policy

(Revised August 2018)

Prepared with reference to the Dfe publications “ Exclusion from maintained schools, Academies and pupil referral units in England.” and “Behaviour and discipline in schools Guidance for governing bodies” July 2013

Introduction

The decision to exclude a pupil from school is a very serious one and will only be taken in response to a serious breach of discipline. Only a member of the College of Teachers can take the initial decision to exclude a pupil. In all probability, there will have been earlier discussions or correspondence between parents and the school regarding the pupil’s behavior.

This policy is informed by the Disability and Discrimination act.

Good discipline in The Iona School is essential to ensure that all pupils can benefit from the opportunities provided by education. The Government supports schools in using exclusion as a sanction where it is warranted. However, permanent exclusion can only be used as a last resort, in response to a serious breach, or persistent breaches, of the school's behavior policy; and where allowing the pupil to remain in school would seriously harm the education or welfare of the pupil or others in the school.

The decision to exclude a pupil must be lawful, reasonable and fair.

We have a statutory duty not to discriminate against pupils on the basis of protected characteristics, such as disability or race we will also give particular consideration to the fair treatment of pupils from groups who are vulnerable to exclusion

When an Exclusion becomes the case

When a pupil is excluded, the College Chair or Class Teacher must inform both the parents and the School Management Team.

A representative of the College of Teachers must explain to the parents:

- why the school has decided to exclude the pupil;
- the steps taken to try to avoid exclusion;
- the arrangements for setting and marking the pupil’s work during their absence from school;
- the parents’ right to state their case to the School Management Team or Trustees;
- Their right to see their child’s school record.

Types of Exclusion

There are two types of exclusion:

- Fixed Period (suspension) – no more than 15 school days in a term;
- Permanent Exclusion (expulsion).

Fixed Period Exclusion

A fixed period exclusion should be used only after an extremely serious breakdown in behavior.

If a pupil is excluded for a fixed period the school will inform the parents immediately of:

- the reason for the exclusion;
- the date when the pupil may return;

- Their right to put their case in writing to the College of Teachers and to the School Management Team or Trustees.

Prior to permanent exclusion (expulsion)

- If a pupils behavior has become untenable or the teaching staff feel that a child is not benefiting from Steiner education then on the first instance this will be discussed with the parents.
- Minutes will be taken during this meeting and all parties will receive a copy of these
- If, after the meeting the child remains in the school the parents will be made fully aware, in writing if an expulsion is to be the next likely step.

Permanent Exclusion (expulsion)

If a pupil is to be permanently excluded, the school will inform the parent(s) at once, by telephone if possible, of the exclusion and the specific reason for it.

The school will also provide parents with details of any relevant previous warnings, fixed period exclusions or other disciplinary measures.

Parents will be told of their right to put their point of view to the College of Teachers and School Management Team/Trustees in writing.

If parents wish to receive further information or appeal against the decision to exclude their child, a meeting will be arranged in which the School Management Team/Trustees will hear the case for exclusion from the teachers and the appeal from the parent(s) or guardian.

When the discussion has taken place the School Management Team/Trustees will make their decision and will confirm this in writing, giving their reasons.

If the School Management Team/Trustees decides that the pupil should return to school, parents will be given the date of return in writing.

Exclusion whether fixed term or permanent may be used for any of the following, all of which constitute examples of unacceptable behavior. This list is not exhaustive.

- Persistent disregard for the school rules and Pupil Code of Conduct.
- Verbal abuse.
- Physical abuse actual or threatened.
- Indecent behavior
- Damage to property
- Use/possession/supply of illegal drugs
- Misuse of other substances
- Theft
- Sexual abuse or assault.
- Carrying an offensive weapon.
- Cyber bullying
- Peer to Peer abuse
- Sexual Harrasment

- Unacceptable behavior which has previously been reported and for which School sanctions and other interventions have not been successful in modifying the pupil's behavior.
- Where the parents of a pupil or a pupil have caused undue harassment of staff
- The behavior of the Parents is judged by the School to be unreasonable and affects, or is likely to affect, adversely the Student's or other pupils' progress at the School, the wellbeing of School employees or the reputation of the School.
- Where the pupil of the Parent/parents continued relationship with the school is not compatible with the aims and objectives of Steiner education (required withdrawal)

Note:

Iona School does not endorse any method of physical punishment of pupils. The school will implement the appropriate disciplinary procedures against members of staff who have been found to have hit, smacked, shaken or physically intimidated pupils in their care.

All punishments should have a clear pedagogical purpose and value.
